

Talent Historical Society Presents

Emmalisa Whalley

The Birds of Talent

Part of the Series
Tuesday Evening at the Museum

Tuesday, November 28, 2017

6:30 – 8:00 pm

Talent Historical Society & Museum
105 North Market Street
Talent, Oregon 97540

For Info: 541-512-8838

Admission is free! Well behaved children are welcome. Doors open at 6:00 p.m.

“I grew up in the Portland area but when I was 17 my mom got a job at Ashland Jr. High and I was still in high school and moved with her. I graduated from Ashland High School in some year and stayed in the Rogue Valley for another 10 years before moving back up to the Portland area. I worked in Portland for the next 25 years before I moved back to Southern Oregon in 2012 and moved to Talent.

“I began bird-watching with my mom about 15 years ago and I picked up a camera and started taking pictures about 6 years ago. I am not a professional, it’s a hobby I really enjoy, and I enjoy sharing with others.

“I’ll share with you my pictures and the three main locations I bird in Talent, mostly my backyard.”